

The Woodlands Serving Central Ohio respects your privacy.

The following statement is our online privacy policy. This policy may change from time to time so please re-read this policy periodically.

What we gather from you and how we use the information:

The Woodlands collects visitor data and analyzes traffic on our site. This information helps us understand customer interests and helps us improve our website.

This site does not automatically collect identity or contact information from internet users to this website. However, when you sign up for the Helping Children Succeed After Divorce Class or submit our contact form, you provide personal information such as your name, e-mail address, and your contact information. Payment for the Helping Children Succeed After Divorce Class is processed through the PayPal website. The Woodlands does not have access to any financial information as it is managed by PayPal. PayPal processes the billing and sends it to The Woodlands.

This site also may collect non-personally identifiable information, for example browser type, operating system, domain name, time spent on the website, or referring link. This information may be used for system, website and process improvements.

The personal information you provide through our online forms are used to get in touch with you to answer your questions or if we have questions for you.

Collection of Information by Third Party Sites:

This site contains links to other internet websites and has no control or authority over the information submitted or collected by these third party websites. Please refer to the respective privacy policy of the individual third party websites.

A note on security:

This site has security measures in place to protect against the loss, misuse and alteration of the information under our control. A password must be entered to log in to your account and in order to manage your account. All personal information is fully encrypted during all transactions. Please note, however, that no data transmission over the internet is completely secure. As a result, while we endeavor to protect your personal information, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you provide to us and you transmit such information to us at your own risk. Once we receive your transmission we endeavor to ensure the security of your personal information on our systems.

Contacting us:

If you wish to contact us for questions regarding this privacy statement or to correct, update or otherwise modify the information that you have provided to us, please email us at noreply@thewoodland.org.
